Consumers as Service Providers in the Behavioral Health Workplace

Peer Support services have evolved from a promising to an evidence-based model of care. Many states now have state instituted certification programs for both individuals with lived experience and family members whose loved one has experienced the challenges of a serious emotional disorder. This course provides an overview of the values, beliefs, and principles that are the foundation of psychosocial rehabilitation and recovery-oriented practice.

Evidence-Based Treatment Planning for Substance Use Disorders

The information in this course covers the definition and diagnostic criteria for substance use disorders, the steps in building a treatment plan, a brief history on the Empirically Supported Treatments (EST) Movement, an overview of how you can identify some of the most widely-used, empirically-supported treatments for substance use disorders, as well as how to integrate these ESTs into your treatment planning.

Evidence-Based Treatment Planning for Disruptive Child and Adolescent Behavior

This course discusses the process of empirically informing your treatment plans for disruptive behavior disorders, including Oppositional Defiant Disorder (ODD) and Conduct Disorder (CD), and also provides an in-depth look at the process of creating your own treatment plan that integrates EST. You will gain extensive knowledge about some of the most commonly identified ESTs for disruptive behavior disorders, along with some considerations for relapse prevention.
