She bruises easily. If she makes a sound, that means she is hurting so set her back down and try again. • Make sure her chair is tilted as far down as it will go. • Make sure her hospital bed is as low as it will go. • Lift Alice by placing your forearms under her arms and gently pulling up. • Turn around slowly and place her on the bed. Help her to get in the middle of the bed and up on the pillow. • Adjust the bed to the regular height and adjust the head of the bed slightly so Alice is propped up and can see the television. • Put up the safety rails on the bed. • Plug Alice's wheelchair in so it can be charging. • When she is maneuvering around the house, make sure there is nothing in her way that she can run over. Keep her areas tidy. • Record in the Service Notes assistance provided to Alice and how it was done and how it went. 	Daily

		the water. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Pick Alice up under her arms and gently lower her into the tub. • Alice likes to lay there for about 10 minutes and relax. She lets you know when she is ready for her bath by slapping at the water. • Use ivory body soap and her loofah to bath Alice. • Gently turn her as needed to bath all areas of her body. • Once finished bathing her, staff should get her big, special bath towel and gently lift her up out of the bathtub and wrap her in the towel. • Get Alice onto her bed, put a fresh diaper on her and the outfit she and her mother picked out that morning. • Once she is dressed, transfer her into her wheelchair. • Go with Alice to the bathroom and brush her teeth. Use a child's soft toothbrush and Crest toothpaste that is mint. It is her favorite. Don't put too much toothpaste on the brush because she will get sick and throw up. Gently brush her teeth and have a glass of water for her to swish and spit in the sink. • Alice's mom washes her hair every other night. • Each morning after Alice has bathed, dressed and brushed her teeth, gently comb her hair out. Use the soft red brush in the top drawer in the bathroom. If you try to use a different brush she will get upset. • Ask her how she would like to wear her hair that day – pony tail, back in a barrette or just down. Say each choice and give Alice time to let you know which she chooses. She will grunt to let you know her choice. Fix her hair as she wishes.
Alice receives nourishment and medication through her g-tube in order to remain healthy and at home.	(NOTE: Only a licensed nurse is authorized to develop Support Activities and Instructions for procedures or treatments that can only be administered by licensed personnel according to the Nurse Practice Act Rules and Regulations.)
